

Three Songstresses pool talents for evening of original music

Kelly McQuillan, So Charlotte Spun a Web and Laura Kelsey play the Good Day Sunshine Cafe

For immediate release Oct. 7 2013

SOUTH SURREY – Fruits of a creative harvest will warm the cool evening air on Saturday, October 26 at the Good Day Sunshine Cafe. The cafe, fast becoming known for its support of the local arts community, will host songwriters Kelly McQuillan, So Charlotte Spun a Web, and Laura Kelsey.

The Three Songstresses will each share an all-original set during the evening, with stories behind the songs and warm voice hugs for the crowd. Expect the songs to range from heart-hurting to toe-tapping to day-dreaming, all offered with passion and genuine spirit.

Tickets are $5 and can be purchased in advance at the Good Day Sunshine Cafe or at the door. $1 from each ticket sold will be donated to the White Rock/South Surrey Food Bank.

The show will be 6:00 - 9:00PM at the Good Day Sunshine Cafe, #100-2950 King George Boulevard, South Surrey. Please contact Kelly McQuillan at 778 846 3484 or kamcquil@shaw.ca for more information.

More on the artists:

Kelly McQuillan, local singer-songwriter and frequent participant at Good Day Sunshine's open mic nights, will be performing songs from her recently-released solo EP, Walking Tall. Kelly's sound is rootsy folk with some Norah Jones polish and a love of poetry that shines through. www.kellymcquillan.com

So Charlotte Spun a Web is an alternative folk-rock project that sounds like the music Gogol Bordello would make if paired with Sarah Harmer. The songs are fun and quirky and based on real life experiences. Singer Carolyn Butula captivates with her witty stage banter and dynamic performance style.

Laura Kelsey writes and sings a variety of music styles for performances and recordings. Whether with a band or as a solo acoustic act, she brings her powerful, soulful voice and heartfelt words anywhere from festivals to funerals around B.C.

www.laurakelsey.com